£50 reward for stolen planters

By BEN MIDDLETON
ben@findnews.co.uk

AN Axminster couple are offering a £50 reward for information that leads to the safe return of their stolen property.

John and Gillian Tester, of Weycroft Mill, say two pots that were stolen from the front of their property have sentimental value and that they would like to see them returned.

The security conscious couple are appealing to readers of this newspaper to keep their eyes peeled and report any sightings of their stolen possessions.

Speaking to Pulman's View Mr Tester said: "I think the theft took place on Thursday, July 23rd, but I didn't notice anything until the Friday evening when I went to water the plants.

"We have both been so pre-occupied with getting our house into shape that we didn't notice the plants had gone straight away.

"I would say that we were almost certainly in the house when the theft happened. We usually leave a security light on under the porch but I turned it off because we have been plagued by spiders and moths recently and they are attracted to the light.

"Our property is usually secure and our neighbours' light shines through to the front of our house so I couldn't believe it when the plant pots had disappeared."

The pots were part of a matching set and were a retirement present given to Mrs Tester.

She said: "The plant pots were a gift from work for when I retired more than 10 years ago. I guess the pots have a combined value of around £60 to £70. It is the fact that I have lost the actual plant that has annoyed me more than anything."

Axminster-based Police Community Support Officer (PCSO), Andy Trott, has visited the couple at their home and he said: "We have had a few cases like this lately and I think it could be a group of people from across the border, either in Somerset or Dorset, I don't think it would be local people.

"I would urge people to mark their property or take down the serial number of garden machinery because it will make it easier for the police to identify it if it is stolen."

Mr Tester said he will soon be putting a picture of the stolen plant pots on the community notice board outside the Axminster Tesco store.

The couple also want to warn residents that someone,

◆ AN Axminster couple is offering a £50 reward for the safe return of their stolen plant pots possibly a gang of people, is currently on the prowl and stealing plant pots and machinery from homes in the area.

"When we spoke to PCSO Trott he told us that someone was going around and taking plant pots and hanging baskets. Apparently the people that are doing this are professionals and do it for a living.

"We would just like to make sure people are aware of this and to make sure their property is secure," said Mr Tester.

Anyone with information about the theft should contact this newspaper on 01297 631120 or Axminster police on 08452 777 444.

Baby Lucy named as 'bonniest' in contest

By BEN MIDDLETON
ben@findlenews.co.uk

A BONNY Baby competition was organised by staff at the Axminster Tesco store and the winner received her prizes on Friday, July 30th.

The competition was held during the store's community fair on Sunday, July 18th, and Axminster mayor Ron Jones chose the winner out of 13 entrants.

The winning baby was Lucy Baldwin and she is pictured with her mum, Angie, Kath Rabjohns, Axminster Tesco community champion, and James Herring Axminster Tesco deputy manager.

Prizes included a portrait photograph, taken by local photographer Sharon Rabjohns, flowers and a hamper.

Kath said: "Axminster Tesco held a community fair in the car park on Sunday, July 18th. We had stalls from local and national suppliers giving away free samples and local and national charities also had information displayed.

"There was entertainment for all the family with a free barbecue and a bonny baby competition was held and we had many babies who entered.

"The mayor, the town crier, town councillor Mervyn Symes and the local MP were able to attend on the day. It was a great success and I would like to thank everyone who attended and made the event enjoyable for the community."

Staff at the store have also been busy raising funds for its charity of the year, Cliv Sargent.

On Sunday, July 25th, 27 riders took part in a charity cycle ride and it is hoped that more than £1,000 has been raised.

Kath added: "The ride started at Tesco at 9.15am and they rode 31 miles. With the collection that we held outside the store and also the sponsorship forms from the riders we are hoping to reach a target of £1,000. "Tesco would like to thank the riders and customers who helped make this day a huge success." Future fundraising events are set to include a member of staff taking part in a charity head shave and a football match between staff and local police.

Safety advice for barbecues

DEVON and Somerset Fire and Rescue Service is urging people to stay safe if they are having a barbecue this summer.

With the warm weather likely to continue for the next few weeks, fire officers are expecting more accidents caused by out of control barbecues.

A spokesman for the fire service said: "With warm days and light evenings, barbecues are a popular and social part of summer life. It is natural to want to go outdoors and eat with family and friends.

"The biggest danger (when barbecuing) is the use of flammable liquids to light or accelerate a barbecue.

"When people pour fuel onto charcoal to get it going the results can be catastrophic. Prepare well in advance and light the charcoal early and be patient.

"Devon and Somerset Fire and Rescue Service's message is to enjoy the summer weather but do so in safety by following a few common sense rules."

EAST Devon District Council (EDDC) is urging the residents of Merrow Down Drive, Seaton, to contact Sita, the company responsible for collecting waste and recycling in the area, if they are concerned about damage caused to the private road.

As previously reported in Pulman's View from Seaton, Geoff and Carole Hubbard are concerned that the trucks used by the contractors are causing damage to the private road.

The couple say that since the new recycling and refuse service was introduced by the district council they have had a problem with refuse trucks driving into the private road. They also say they are worried that an ambulance or other emergency service vehicles may not be able to use the road if the damage continues.

A spokesman for EDDC said: "We are aware that the residents of this road have in the past had concerns about the condition of the road surface, but we have not heard from them since a site visit in early 2009.

"There is bound to be concern with regard to a private road that is not regularly re-surfaced by the highways authority. Waste collection trucks and other delivery vehicles have been using the lane for a number of years, so a degree of wear and tear is inevitable over time.

"If residents do not wish the refuse vehicles to use the lane, the alternative is for them to bring their waste containers to the end of the road where it meets the public highway, so that our contractors can make the collection from this spot. It will be for the residents to decide whether they wish to take up this option.

"So far as any damage already caused is concerned, the residents would need to contact the contractors — Sita — direct with any claim for compensation. This would then be a matter for Sita and its insurers to deal with."

Hugh's green machine composts like a rocket

By BEN MIDDLETON
ben@indlenews.co.uk

PARK Farm, Musbury, the headquarters of Hugh Fearnley-Whittingstall's River Cottage business, has added to its already green credentials by installing an organic composter.

The Rocket Composter will be used to dispose of all food waste from the River Cottage kitchen, turning it into compost.

The compost will then be used on the gardens at River Cottage to enhance the growth of crops and plants at the site.

Mr Fearnley-Whittingstall said: "Our ethos at River Cottage is to promote a sustainable way of living that celebrates the best of local produce. Composting is a fantastic way to support this and the Rocket will allow us to dispose of food waste sustainably, removing the need for this to be sent to landfill, where it only serves to damage the environment.

"We'll also be using the compost on some of our gardens to help nurture our crops to ensure we continue to produce the best quality food for our kitchen."

One-to-one internet help from library

AXMINSTER Library is aiming to train people to become more confident in using computers and the internet by hosting a weekly 'Get Online' session.

The Devon County Council-run library is offering free one-to-one tuition to anyone who feels they need help in using a computer or the internet. The sessions last one hour and take place over three weeks.

Funding for the training has been secured from UK Online by Devon County Council.

Stuart Baker, Devon County Council cabinet member with responsibility for Devon's libraries, said: "I am delighted that we are able to offer this training at Axminster Library. Even a basic knowledge of the internet and how to use it can significantly change people's lives and could open up any number of opportunities for people including enabling them to exchange messages with their families at all age levels.

"The training programme that we offer has always been extremely popular. Part of the focus will be to show people how to find and explore government and local council websites, to see what services are provided locally.

"That can open up new ways to access some of our services, such as renewing library books or reserving them or getting information and help from our care direct service.

"For some people, remotely accessing services like this can help their quality of life, helping them to remain independent."

One resident who says he has benefitted from the computer training sessions is John Power, from Kilminster.

Speaking to the Pulman's View Mr Power said: "Being totally internet illiterate and wishing to bring myself into the 21st century, I was very pleased when I discovered at Axminster Library that I could enrol in a short computer course.

"I thoroughly enjoyed the course and am now semi-resident at the library surfing the net and sending emails. I can honestly say it has changed my life."

For more information about the 'Get Online' sessions contact Axminster Library on 01297 32693.

Best dressed for friends' window

THE Seaton Hospital League of Friends shop was triumphant in the recent Seaton and District Chamber of Commerce best dressed window display.

In total, 29 shops and businesses took part in the event during the Seaton Festival of Cycling weekend.

A trophy has been presented to the shop by Marcus Hartnell, chairman of the Seaton chamber.

Mr Hartnell said: "The judges were really impressed by the high standards and great efforts made by the businesses in the town. The chamber would like to extend their thanks to all who took part."

A LYME Regis artist is holding an exhibition at the Arts Café, Axminster.

Richard Bizley, of Bizley Art Gallery, will be displaying approximately 50 pictures from his collection.

The exhibition will be open from 9.30am until 4pm Monday to Friday and from 9.30am until 2pm on Saturdays. For more information contact the Arts Cafe on 01297 631455 or visit www.bizleyart.com.

Anti-social driving tackled with event

HONITON police and Honiton firefighters hosted an event aimed at reducing the number of incidents of anti-social driving on the roads and in car parks in the town.

The event was held at Honiton Fire Station on Friday, July 23rd, from 6.30pm until 8pm.

Motorists from across Honiton and the surrounding area who had been reported to police for anti-social driving had been invited to attend.

A spokesman for Honiton police said: "Because we get complaints from members of the public about the manner of people's driving and drivers doing doughnuts in public car parks, the police liaised with the fire service and together we put together a package to help educate these anti-social drivers in the hope they may change their attitude on the roads."

"This event was pro-active against anti-social drivers and we had 10 pre-selected drivers who attended. These drivers were chosen because their registration number had been passed to the police on one or more occasions in the last six months with regards to their driving. Two of the people attending had been invited in place of receiving a fixed penalty notice for speeding."

The event consisted of classroom-based activities and presentations as well as practical activities.

The spokesman added: "The response we got from the drivers was fantastic. They all enjoyed the evening and said that we had included the right amount of classroom and practical input.

Warren Broom for bringing the driving simulator, Dave Facey for putting the event together and Tesco for providing the refreshments."

THUMBS-UP FOR LOCAL HOSPITALS

By BEN MIDDLETON
ben@indlenews.co.uk

AXMINSTER, Honiton and Seaton Community Hospitals have been given the thumbs-up in a national survey of hospitals.

The survey was organised by the National Patient Safety Agency (NPSA) and the results have just been released.

The NPSA survey rated the environment, catering, cleanliness and privacy and dignity available to patients at NHS Devon's community hospitals.

Honiton Hospital was rated as 'excellent' across the board. The food and privacy and dignity were rated 'excellent' and the environment 'good' at Axminster Hospital. In Seaton, the privacy and dignity was rated 'excellent' and the environment and food was given a 'good' rating.

Sally Slade, NHS Devon's managing director for health and social care, said she was pleased with the results of the survey.

She said: "This year's results show that most patients find our community hospitals pleasant, so for that I'd like to thank our staff for their efforts.

"Over the past year we have upgraded the facilities at most of our community hospitals through annual deep cleans and planned maintenance, including extensive work on ensuring privacy and dignity for all patients.

"We have worked in partnership with our leagues of friends and comforts funds who have helped us to provide those little extra things that make our patients' stays that little bit more pleasurable."

19 of NHS Devon's 21 community hospitals received at least one excellent rating. No hospital in Devon received a poor rating in any of the categories.

Antiques Roadshow presenter Paul Atterbury christened the engine — named Samastipur — during the Pecorama Open Garden Day on Sunday, July 18th. The open day was in aid of Cancer Research UK and Hearing Dogs for the Deaf.

A spokesman for Pecorama said: "Visitors came in droves to enjoy free entry to the grounds and model exhibition. Mr Atterbury, known for his cheerful striped jackets on the Antiques Roadshow, is himself a steam enthusiast and author of books on railway subjects.

"He thoroughly enjoyed his driving experience."

CLINIC FOR FINE LINE AND WRINKLES

In an ideal world, we would all accept and embrace the ageing process. Unfortunately stress, ill health, neglect, sun damage and genetic disposition can leave us with "the face we don't deserve" Feeling unhappy with ones looks doesn't mean we are vain, if we are constantly being told we look tired, then psychologically we feel tired. Many women have reported, "a new confidence and better self image" by lifting the tired look with a little help from our sympathetic and skilled Doctor.

Cardboard catastrophe

IS anyone else's home littered with various bags and boxes for recycling a host of different materials?

I seem to be accumulating more and more containers of varying shapes and sizes in every corner of my home.

I'm not knocking recycling, heaven forbid. It just feels as though it is taking over sometimes.

There's the indoor food waste bin, the outdoor food waste bin, the green box, then I've got a collection of carrier bags, a pile of newspapers for various household chores — including lighting fires — and glass jars to tip cooking fat into rather than down the sink (that's the result of being a plumber's daughter).

But then there's the cardboard, which you're not allowed to put in the green boxes. You can recycle it, of course, but you have to go — usually in your car if you reside in the countryside or if you have a large quantity — to the nearest cardboard recycling point. To do this, you have to use up precious fuel to get there and helping to pollute the environment following all the hype about trying to cut such short journeys down.

Why oh why can we not put the increasing amounts of cardboard in our green boxes? Please East Devon District Council, can you fix it for me to recycle this medium so loved for its packaging qualities from the comfort of my own home without defeating the object of trying to be green by polluting the countryside even more?

I know I'm not the only one who wants this service added to the list of things we are allowed to put in our green boxes.

Despite this gripe, I think it's fair to say that most people, especially in this area, are onboard the recycling bandwagon, doing our bit.

Of course, some people have been recycling for years — like my mum. She loves to reuse things and hates throwing stuff away and 'wasting' it. She likes it even more now that recycling is 'in fashion'.

She's recycled everything and anything in the past, from jam jars to wrapping paper.

Many a birthday I remember being encouraged not to rip open presents if the paper was nice as she could reuse it.

My nan used to reuse presents. If someone gave her a Christmas gift she didn't like or wouldn't use, it would more than likely get rewrapped the following year and passed on to someone who would want it. Only one time she was caught out by giving the 'recycled' gift back to the person who originally gave it to her. Oops.

Growing-your-own is becoming more and more of a trend as we see a multitude of gardening and allotment-based products for sale encouraging ordinary folk with ordinary-sized gardens to have a go at producing their own potatoes and creating their own carrots. And, of course, the composting which goes alongside.

And, it has to be said that celebrity chef Hugh Fearnley-Whittingstall, whose River Cottage HQ, shop and canteen are based right in the heart of Pulman's Country, has had a massive influence on this green way of life.

The latest addition to his rapidly growing — pardon the pun — sustainable enterprise is his new organic Rocket Composter (see story on page 5).

I wonder if I can get HFW on board my Cardboard Catastrophe Campaign?

AN east Devon primary school has benefitted from a fun day staged by a local garage owner.

Musbury Garage held a fun day for Musbury Primary School recently with all the money raised going towards new ICT (Information and Communication Technology) equipment at the school.

Julian Rinaldi, garage owner, organised the event which included food and wine tastings, special promotions and competitions, including a 'guess the mileage' competition on a BMW car.

The competition was won by Musbury resident Stephanie Brown, who will receive a year's supply of milk from Robert Wiseman Dairies.

Mr Rinaldi said: "I was a pupil at the school and coached the school football team for 10 years. We are a family business and have been in Musbury for nearly 30 years. Many of the ex-pupils of the primary school are now customers and I thought that to help raise some money for the school to spend on new ICT equipment seemed to be the perfect fit."

Last summer Mr Rinaldi signed a deal with Spar and he says he has not looked back since.

He said: "Until last summer, the forecourt shop was old fashioned and just did a bit of grocery, confectionery and tobacco, along with some car care products. Working with Spar, we now have a modern 1,000 sqft convenience store offering a range of dairy products, fresh produce like fruit and vegetables, local meats, fresh bread and an off licence. "We have also introduced a coffee machine and a food-to-go servery which is popular with passing trade as well as local customers."

Hiroshima bomb anniversary vigil with peace wall

A GROUP of Honiton residents will be holding a peace vigil outside St Paul's Church, High Street, Honiton, on Friday, August 6th.

The vigil will start at 8.16am, the time that the first atomic bomb was dropped on Hiroshima on August 6th, 1945.

Former Reverend, Merfyn Temple, will be in attendance and residents in the town are invited to attend.

A peace wall will be on display and residents can write a message of peace on the wall during the event.

◆ GITTISHAM Hill Park, near Honiton

By BEN MIDDLETON
ben@indlenews.co.uk

ONLY one property remains at a new retirement village just outside Honiton.

Gittisham Hill Park welcomed its first resident at the beginning of this year. It is home to 32 independent living homes, including 10 one bedroom bungalows, which sit alongside a 30 bed registered care home, on a 12 acre site.

The site is owned by Retirement Villages Ltd and a spokesman for the company said: "Four of the new homes were reserved, off plan, on the weekend they were released for sale.

Since building work was completed in the spring, the new residents have settled into their homes and started to get involved in village life.

"The bungalows have been designed to offer contemporary flexible living with ease of use in mind. Bathrooms have level access showers and easy use mixer taps. The fully-fitted kitchens feature integrated appliances. Patio doors open out from the kitchen onto the landscaped and maintained grounds."

Brenda Eisner was the first resident to move into one of the properties.

She said: "It's very difficult moving from a home where you've been happy, but I feel very settled here. I go to meetings and join in games afternoons, and I'm getting to know my neighbours."

Sales and marketing director Sarah Burgess said: "We are delighted the new collection has proved so popular. "They have become a real feature of the village, centred as they are on the new sensory garden."

For more information about the last remaining home at the retirement village, call 0845 521 1857.

SJA urges area's employers to train their staff in first aid

ST John Ambulance is urging east Devon employers to train their staff in first aid.

A survey conducted by the charity found that each year up to 150,000 people die in situations where first aid could have given them a chance to live.

St John Ambulance regional marketing manager Elaine Leighton said: "Many organisations have corporate social responsibility policies or community initiatives that tackle problems we face as a society, such as making their practices more sustainable.

"It's encouraging that businesses want to prevent long-term effects of our environment but by also training more people in first aid they can give staff the ability to make an immediate difference between a life saved and a life lost.

"Companies are already required to train a minimum number of staff in first aid. We are asking them to go further and train as many employees as possible or at least help spread basic first aid knowledge within the workplace.

"We can reduce the number of people dying needlessly while employees feel empowered, cared for and recognise the positive contribution their employer is making.

"Many businesses offer employees gym memberships or language lessons, but what could be more important than equipping your workforce with the skills to save a life?"

For more information or to book a first aid course call 08447 70 48 01. Alternatively visit www.sja.org.uk.

No concerns over HGVs?

EDITOR — In response to your article Call for EDDC to rethink lorry plan, and the claims of Juliette Bishop of Tesco and Devon County Council that concerns over lorry movements through Axmouth "had been unfounded", I must point out that my own car has twice been struck by passing vehicles.

My neighbour's house, home to two elderly ladies, has been struck and severely damaged on at least two occasions. The roadside safety posts throughout Church Street in Axmouth have also been demolished.

Last, but by no means least, a pall bearer attending a funeral in the village church was struck and injured by a passing vehicle.

The owners of the house on Coronation Corner were forced to install massive boulders, at their own cost, to protect themselves in their own garden from countless vehicles crashing through their hedge.

No concerns over lorry movements? I ask you.

EDITOR — A very big thank you to family and friends for their support and generosity in making our cream tea afternoon a great success once again.

Also an iced anniversary cake which was made and donated by Ida. We also enjoyed music played by Julie.

This year we raised £1,440 for the Weldmar Hospiscare Trust in Dorset. Thank you to all.

A call for those who care to let it be known

EDITOR — Following Ben Middleton's article on Tuesday, June 15th about the proposed development at West Hill, most of the people living in West Hill chose to live here because it is a village.

If the planning for this proposed development is granted and the boundary and green field status over-ridden, then a precedent will have been created and all the other proposed developments waiting in the pipeline will have the go ahead too.

This village will rapidly become a town. There will be nothing to stop this.

There are other objections; the access road is pitifully inadequate, the water and sewerage provision is inadequate, the electricity supply is inadequate — power reduction at peak times.

To mention just a few of them, using RSPB classification, redwings, songthrush, lesser spotted woodpeckers are all on red status and threatened.

Bullfinch, duncock and green woodpecker are on amber status and all seen in Eastfield.

The roe deer roam here and many other animals too.

The proposed development puts them all at risk.

The sweeteners for this development are transparent as being just this, and this planning proposal is not for the good of the village or the wildlife, it is money led and to profit just a very few people.

If the land here is lost, we will have lost everything, forever, especially since planning has already been given to build a new town nearby.

Please, if you care about this land, write and let this be known.

Sue Smith

Tesco lorry route will destroy village

EDITOR — With regard to the comments by Julie Bishop, Tesco corporate affairs manager, I have the following observations; Tesco may have had discussions with Devon County Council, but these discussions have not included Axmouth and, I understand, all protestations by the village have been studiously ignored.

The full highway assessment was held some years ago and defined an HGV as being over 3.5 tons.

A small proportion of the lorries passing through our village are of the 40-44 ton size. Tesco will be using 40-44 ton lorries.

Therefore, we have serious concerns about additional HGV movements through the village, especially as the limited number of movements will amount to approximately 1,700 during the infill stage alone.

The numbers for the construction phase and subsequent servicing of the store are unknown.

Ms Bishop states that concerns of pedestrians are unfounded. I suggest that she try walking through the narrow parts of Axmouth, where there are no pavements, when an HGV passes and see whether she enjoys the experience.

As a resident, I do not.

I think that it is worth adding that 75 per cent of the buildings lining the road through Axmouth enjoy listed status.

Some are already being affected by the current limited number of HGVs transiting our village.

Once Tesco, with the connivance of Devon County Council, has finished with Axmouth we will not need a Regeneration Plan, but a complete Re-building Plan.

Get a grip, says writer

EDITOR — I have had a few words to say to Honiton Town Council over the proposed community centre over the sentiments were too indelicate for their ears according to the town clerk.

Thank God that East Devon District Council appreciate the niceties of the democratic process.

Honiton Town Council must learn the lesson the hard way — they are there to serve the townsfolk not treat us with such arrogance.

Financial storms are forecast. So is there a need to batten down the hatches? Not so they say in the Honiton Town Council bunker, where they seem to live on some parallel planet completely oblivious as to who will be picking up the tab of this ridiculous idea.

My advice to the council is to get a grip. If you want to move away from the adequate premises you have, do it the cheapest way you can.

Why not give the magistrates' court a look?

Peter Townsend
Honiton

Pump plans

EDITOR — It has been brought to my attention that nowhere on the Tesco infill pipeline plan in Seaton does it show a pumping station.

To bring the infill to the site via the pipeline it needs a pumping station 1,500 metres from the floating pontoon to shore plus about the same again to the site via bridges over Harbour Road and Riverside Way.

A pumping station to do this must be large and powerful which would mean more noise and pollution. Could Tesco tell us where it would be situated?

Street fair is big success

EDITOR — Seaton Phoenix held its annual street fair on the Esplanade on Sunday, July 18th.

This proved a very successful day both for ourselves and the many traders and organisations who took part.

In spite of a blustery, cold beginning, which did put off a couple of potential stallholders, the day turned out to be hot and sunny and attracted a good many visitors.

Seaton Phoenix would like to thank all the stallholders, without whom we could not have a street fair, the purchasers of the excellent variety of goods on display, Roger Broom for kindly erecting and dismantling the road signs and also Tony and Sue Woodman who marked up the stallholders' spaces.

Open garden raises money

EDITOR — We would like to thank all those generous folk who supported the sale in the garden at Koceda, Wellmead, Kilminster in aid of the Yatima Orphanage in Dar-es-Salaam, Tanzania.

In spite of the variable weather a total of £564.84 was raised which will help to pay for food, medication and schooling for the needy children.

A special thanks must go to the neighbours and friends who responded, so willingly, to help rescue the gazebos and their contents in the gale and rain late on the Thursday evening.

Sad times ahead for NHS care services

EDITOR — I recently attended the Network Action Group (NAG) Devon Partnership NHS meeting concerning the need for The Bungalow here in Honiton, and about other matters.

We all thought that at last we were going to have some firm answers.

I did not realise that it had opened its doors but sadly not for people with dementia, memory problems as before.

We were then told it will be 2011 before we will know the proper use of The Bungalow.

We can all appreciate that money is tight and everyone is on a budget and there is only so much the NHS has to give to different sections of the health chain.

How can you take from one cause to give to another? Everyone's needs should be recognised whatever it is.

Every life is important. I hate the bureaucracy of life today.

We are not treated as people we are a statistic.

If I hear that word strategy once more.

Apparently there will be a lot of training given to all people with special needs.

Why now? Where are they going to find these people?

Still we have no idea what plans the new government has in store for the health services.

What we do know there will be cutbacks, all lives will be affected one way or another.

Since the last government wanted everyone to live longer where is care? Perhaps the government is unaware that dementia and Alzheimer's is on the increase and is here to stay.

A very serious growing problem should have been addressed years ago. Like everything in life it is obviously not important enough to deal with.

We also learnt from the meeting that there will be a lot of changes taking place.

There is still money for certain projects but the really important issues are still not being addressed.

The government is juggling with people's lives a bit like a lottery. Some will win others will not. Sad times for all.

Big plans for a new road system

EDITOR — With regard to the discussion of traffic and the proposed Sainsbury's store in Ottery St Mary one possible solution is for the Sainsbury's short-stay car park to be at the west end of the site with the exit opening on to Canaan Way.

The entrance could be off Hind Street or possibly from Canaan Way. A more radical proposal would then be to pedestrianise the eastern end of Hind Street beyond the garage, say.

This would make a small lane of shops with the supermarket frontage on the existing car park opposite the Salvation Army shop and the art gallery.

The Post Office could expand through to have an entrance on Hind Street and on Mill Street, necessary if it is to provide full banking services.

Boots could have an entrance on the back lane opposite the existing video shop.

More problematic would be to pedestrianise Silver Street, but re-routing the traffic could be horrendous.

What would be beneficial to the town would be if some of the many visitors who are bussed into Otter Nurseries could visit the church and town centre.

Sainsbury's and Otter Nurseries could provide a shuttle mini-bus between the two sites.

We really need a north relief road running along the existing track from Canaan Way to just below the Otter Nurseries site, but perhaps I'm letting my imagination run away a road too far.

What do your readers think?

Station's extra opening hours causes confusion for train's loyal customers

EDITOR — With regard to the article on extra opening hours at Axminster station, in Pulman's View edition July 13th.

The train company seems to be unable to firmly decide as to what they want the opening hours of the station to be.

If you look on their website it shows assistance is available to late in the evening, Monday to Saturday up until 8.30pm and up until 9pm on a Sunday.

The only help constantly available is via the help points on the platforms, no staff scheduled to be on duty outside the published booking office opening hours.

The buck seems to be passed to the local management regarding the opening.

If logic were to be applied, would not the best people to decide on such matters be local management?

Bearing in mind the station is an important interchange between bus and rail, also the gateway to the Jurassic Coast, longer opening hours should be proactively considered.

What can be more confusing when a passenger turns up to book a ticket or renew a railcard for example, only to find the station closed, whereas the office had been open on the day/week before at the same time?

What the powers that be seem to fail to understand, is that a vast number of people do not have access to the internet to book tickets or prefer to actually deal with an actual person when booking tickets.

the churches

With Nigel Speller

DURING the month just ended the Church of England marked the Feast of St Peter — one of the original disciples — as the traditional day for the ordination of new deacons and priests by the Bishops in all dioceses.

This number includes both those who will be stipendiary clergy and those who will be non-stipendiary.

One newspaper used nine pages to list the names of all those concerned who numbered around 500.

Even so it is reported that this number will be insufficient to fill all the eventual vacancies which are likely to occur in the next decade due to retirement and natural wastage. It is clear that Christians must continue to pray for more priests.

The Church of England does have a further resource of lay ministers, in the form of readers, sometimes called lay readers, who in their present form date from 1886.

These are lay people who are trained and licensed to preach and lead a variety of services such as the daily offices, and funerals.

They are these days a vital element of ministerial resources in many parishes and mission communities.

Their selection and training is normally based in each diocese, and training lasts around three years.

The number of active readers licensed to parishes in Exeter Diocese is currently around 200, and there are a further 60 who have permission to officiate when requested.

For enquiries about reader ministry telephone 01392 294907.

More signs of the holiday season — Colyton Church has just completed a successful holiday club based at the local primary school. Some 30 youngsters attended each day.

For the young in primary school years one to six at Uplyme Church their fun is still to come from August 4th to 6th, ending with a family barbecue from 12.30pm on the last day.

For information telephone 01297 444233.

Then there is news this week of more popular summer events of Songs of Praise services — Musbury Church held its on August 1st and Branscombe will be on the beach again at 6pm on Sunday, August 8th — this time with the Honiton Band.

Branscombe Church will be opening its market at the village hall on the day before, August 7th from 10.30am to 2pm.

Southleigh will be holding its annual fayre on Wednesday, August 11th at 2pm and there are services in the church each Sunday at 11.15am, all are welcome.

We conclude this week with exciting news from Father Michael Keppell — Roman Catholic Parish Priest Axminster, Lyme Regis and Seaton — many people are looking forward to the visit of Pope Benedict XVI to England and Scotland from September 16th to 19th this year.

Since the Pope will be visiting at the invitation of H M government, this visit will be for the entire nation not only the catholic community.

This will give everyone in society an opportunity to reflect on what he has to say. Many people think that we've tended to become a selfish society over the years, and the Pope's message will surely be a reminder of where true happiness is to be found.

The Pope has chosen as his theme Cardinal Newman's motto "heart speaks to heart" with its suggestion of sincere dialogue between different individuals and groups.

The timetable of the papal visit is a very full one.

The Queen will be the Pope's host and will welcome him to Britain at the Palace of Holyrood House, her official Edinburgh residence.

Other key events will be meetings with the Archbishop of Canterbury and other Christian leaders, a prayer vigil in Hyde Park on the evening of Saturday, September 18th and the Mass for the beatification of Cardinal Newman on the morning of Sunday, September 19th.

A large number of people will attend the major events of the papal visit.

And the rest of us are likely to benefit from very full coverage on television and in the other media.

Who knows — we may even get the best view.

Members enjoy a group garden visit

FOR the June meeting members of Awliscombe Women's Institute travelled by coach to Farndon Thatch near Puckington to the home of Bob and Jane St John Wright.

They enjoyed seeing their garden of fine trees, mixed borders and a lovely tranquil area. This was followed by a meal at the Old Barn Owl.

The competition for the prettiest buttonhole was won by Kathleen Manley with Ann Williams second and Margaret Dymond third.

As Devon Federation of Women's Institutes' is celebrating being 90 years old Olive invited members and friends to a garden party at her home.

The weather was perfect and the committee served cream teas and delicious cakes.

The competition for the prettiest hats was judged by Marilyn Sheath. The winners were Julie and Pam Spiller. Dorothy gave a vote of thanks.

The July meeting was well attended and Olive introduced Mary Bolshaw who made and cooked five different savoury and sweet dishes which with her humorous talk made it very entertaining and everyone tasted the goodies.

Thanks were given by Margaret Dymond. Olive gave a report on the annual meeting, which was held in Cardiff.

Many thanks go to Rosemary for organising two coaches for the group outing to Sherborne and Shaftesbury. Everyone enjoyed the trip in lovely weather.

The competition for three roses in a vase was won by Mary Martin with Margaret Dymond coming second and Marilyn Wright was third.

Flower of the month was won by Joyce Edwards.

Lovely refreshments were made by Daphne Carpenter, Gill Goodes, Pam Hill and Chrissie Jackson.

The raffle winners were Pam Chonon and Ada Summers.

Not a dry eye in the house following Penlee lifeboat talk

THE July meeting of the Honiton Afternoon Women's Institute was held at the Old Schoolroom in the Methodist Church, Honiton, with 24 members present.

The group outing this month was to Sherborne and Shaftesbury and it proved a great success with members enjoying an excellent day in glorious weather.

Another trip has been planned for members which is a cruise along the Jurassic Coast from Exmouth in September.

The speaker this month was Mac

McLaren who gave a heart rendering talk on the 1981 Penlee Lifeboat Disaster.

There was hardly a dry eye in the room as he spoke about his personal attachment to the lifeboat at Penlee.

The next meeting will be held on Monday, September 13th at 2pm.

Village primary school leavers treated to special ride in two white limousines

YEAR six pupils at Chardstock St Andrew's Primary School had a special treat during their last day at the school.

13 of the youngsters will be going to secondary school from September, with the majority heading for Holyrood in Chard.

On their last day of term, Wednesday, July 21st, a special church service was held at the village church and the children also had the chance to ring the bell at the new Chardstock Primary School.

The bell had been in use at the old primary school and this was the first time that it had chimed since moving to the new school at the end of 2009.

As an extra special surprise parents and teachers organised for two white limousines to collect the children and take them on a short journey.

New Street Veterinary Centre

Personnel Changes

For those of you who haven't already heard on the farmer's grapevine....we are very sad to announce that Maggie Lange has decided to retire.

Maggie has been the first point of contact for our farm clients and she has become a friendly face to many of you over the past 10 years or so. She has been instrumental in managing the vaccination programmes, instigating routine visits, farmers meetings and ensuring you all comply with Defra's continually changing TB requirements! We would be delighted if you could join her for a cuppa and slice of cake to say good luck and farewell on our stand at the Honiton Show on Thursday 5th August.

We are also delighted to welcome to the team, 2 new part time receptionists – Paula Ransley and Emma Palmer who will take over from Hayley Buckland who we are very sorry to see go, but wish her all the best in her new career. We would also like to welcome Lucy Le Cocq, who is joining us as a mixed Veterinary Surgeon from the beginning of August. Lucy comes with a sound knowledge of both small and large animals and I am sure will soon become a familiar, friendly face to many of our clients.

 Farm Admin Job Vacany **

Maggie will be a very hard act to follow, but it does mean we are now looking for someone to replace her who has a farming background and knowledge of farm animal husbandry and Defra requirements.

It is a varied role and will be on a part time basis of approximately 20 hours per week. If you would like more information, please contact Sarah Waller on 01404 42750 or email your CV to office@thevets.org.uk

If you have any queries regarding your pet – Large or Small – please do not hesitate to contact us and speak to one of our qualified Nurses or Veterinary Surgeons.

Consultation is by appointment only with a 24 HOUR EMERGENCY COVER.

TONY JACKSON

Anyone lost a peafowl pair?

HAS anybody lost a pair of peafowl? A reader, William Martin MBE, tells me that several weeks ago a brace of these elegant, colourful but extremely raucous birds wandered into his garden.

They are, I'm told, a trifle scruffy and though the cock appears to have amorous intentions, the hen is not amused! They have not come from Escot, it seems, and neither the RSPCA, RSPB nor any other wildlife organisation is inclined to take them on.

Their new host suspects they have been dumped, possibly because of the racket they make throughout the day and night, not to mention their plentiful droppings! They are also, it seems, causing havoc among the flower beds and vegetable garden.

Initially feeling sorry for the birds, Mr Martin and a neighbour fed them for a couple of weeks, but even though they have stopped the free lunches the birds are still resident. Does anyone know where they've come from or would be willing to offer the birds a home? If you do, contact me and I will make the necessary arrangements.

Meanwhile, this coming Saturday, August 7th, sees the start of National Marine Week and, as one might expect, Dorset Wildlife Trust, has a programme of seaside events for most days of the week. There will be rockpool rambles in Kimmeridge Bay, the best rockpool site in Dorset, for the family (no unaccompanied children) on the Tuesday and Thursday, while on the Wednesday you can hunt for strandline treasures in the same area.

Friday sees a seashore safari when Judith Oakley will explore the shore and reveal the secrets behind her new book Seashore Safaris and on Saturday you can indulge in eco-friendly crabbing, learning how to catch and care for crabs. For more details contact 01929 481044 or go to www.dorsetwildlifetrust.org.uk. There are modest charges for each event.

On a more personal note, I am still recovering from a three-day stint at the CLA Game Fair which, for the first time in its 52-year history, took place at Ragley Hall, Alcester, Warwickshire, the home of the Marquess of Hertford.

In the past, the game fair has too often been dogged by traffic problems and I recall that two years ago, at Blenheim, it was taking visitors several hours to get into the showground. This year the traffic flowed almost without pause and, apart from a slight hiccup on the first day, entrance and exit was swift and easy, no mean feat with only two entrances and an audience over the three days of 137,000!

The CLA Game Fair, the world's largest event of its kind, is now a showcase for every conceivable aspect of rural life from field sports to wildlife conservation and draws a vast and diverse audience, many of whom are exposed to the rural lifestyle for the first time.

Apart from the diverse series of arena events — gundog displays, clay shooting and fishing — there are in the region of 1,000 trade stands, a vast number of which are devoted to clothing and equipment.

There is also an extensive range of artists exhibiting and while wandering amongst the galleries and stands, I met a well known local wildlife artist, Berrisford Hill who lives near Sherborne and whose paintings are eagerly sought after and fetch sums way beyond my pocket! He is now experimenting with an impressionist style which is a welcome departure from the 'photographic' depictions of so many artists.

My only complaint about the game fair this year was the fact that it was a mile from end to end, the ground was like iron and, after three days of walking and talking, I was exhausted. However, next year the fair returns to Blenheim and I have been assured by the organisers that the traffic will flow. It had better!

Shopping from their own home

By BEN MIDDLETON
ben@hindlenews.co.uk

RESIDENTS at a care home in Axminster can now do some shopping from the comfort of their own home.

A new general store has opened at Silverleigh on Silver Street.

The store will provide a range of items including sweets and toiletries. It will also house a small museum featuring products and advertising from years gone by.

The General Store was opened by former Axminster shopkeeper and resident of Silverleigh, Ted Harris on Friday, July 23rd.

Mr Harris said: "As a former shop keeper in Axminster I am pleased to open this shop for Silverleigh."

"I have lived here since April 2006 and I think it is a wonderful thing for people who can't get around the town too easily."

A spokesman for Silverleigh said: "Silverleigh always strives for the highest quality outcomes and we are very proud to open our general store to the residents."

"We aim to provide meaningful activities for people with dementia, activities that promote independence and choice."

"The general store is an extra service that people living at Silverleigh can enjoy."

"We are fortunate enough to be located in the town, but it is not possible for all our residents to access the town easily. The shop is filled with advertising and memorabilia from the past, and is stocked with items chosen by the residents who were asked what they would like to buy in the shop.

"Sweets, cards, make-up, toiletries and gifts are all available."

"The residents will help run the shop and replenish the stock."

30 members of twinning group visit sibling town

MEMBERS of Ottery St Mary Twinning Association paid a visit to their twin of Ilsfeld in Germany recently.

30 of the group have just returned from a weekend trip to the southern German town.

A spokesman for the twinning association said: "When we have been to Germany in previous years the weather has been on the cool side so by choosing to go in July we thought there was a good chance of it being fine."

"Little did we know that it would turn out to be the hottest month in the decade with daytime temperatures reaching an unprecedented 36 degrees celsius in the shade."

Activities during the weekend exchange included a trip to a local vineyard, an historical tour and meals out.

The spokesman added: "While the trip was far too short there was relief among some at boarding the air conditioned coach to join the flight back to cooler England after yet another successful and enjoyable twinning exchange."

"Even now, the Ottery St Mary Twinning Association is already formulating plans for the return visit by our German friends at the beginning of September next year which will be the 10th anniversary of the start of twinning with Ilsfeld."

Anyone interested in finding out more about Ottery St Mary Twinning Association should contact the chairman, Mark Rix, on 01404 813123 or contact Ottery Tourist Information office.

Making Life Flow Easier...

HAVE YOU GOT A BUILDING QUESTION YOU NEED ANSWERED?

Each month on our Homes and Interiors feature we shall have a new helpful section with Nick Whittaker of N.J. Whittaker Ltd. in Honiton who is an experienced and fully qualified builder who will answer your questions. This can be anything from DIY queries, a query about new laws and regulations, to a dispute with a builder you have at the moment. Please either email your questions to kelly@pemedi.co.uk or post them to:

Kelly Baker, Pulman's View From, Tindle House, South Street, Axminster, Devon EX13 5AD

A question will be picked out and answered each month

THIS MONTH'S QUESTION: (from Brian Glendenning)

Following the question & answer published last time, I am also considering some building work. This is will take place on my own property and comprise the demolition of an existing garage and the construction of a new garage with a self contained apartment above. Is this 'a new build' so zero rated or an 'extension,' although not connected to the existing property, so standard rated. I am likely to make the apartment fully disabled friendly with stairlift, wheelchair width doors and wheelchair wet room etc for use by my mum and possibly holiday rental. What would the VAT position be on this be?

ANSWER:

The construction of a new garage with apartment above does not I believe qualify for zero rating and would only do so if built at the same time as the main dwelling. However we believe that the disabled lift and possibly an adapted disabled bathroom may qualify for zero rating but may be viewed differently if intending to holiday let as well. It is always best to check with HM Revenue & Customs who can confirm each particular case.

Alexander Paul

Come to the fabulous Honiton show on Thursday 5th August; enjoy a huge variety of attractions and of course come and visit the Alexander Paul Antiques stand!

The Honiton show offers a fabulous array of livestock, vintage tractors, sheep dog trials, blacksmith skills, craft marquees, food halls, live music, amazing motorcycle acts and much more; fun for all the family indeed and an opportunity to take us up on a cool refreshing drink on what will I hope be a hot hot day!

Alexander Paul Antiques stand will feature examples of their stunning new range of bespoke "Slate top tables". This entirely new venture offers the customer the opportunity to design and have built a unique piece of furniture from the wide range of options available. These classic designs, based on genuine pieces of French provincial furniture which have come through our restoration workshops, can be finished in a range of contemporary or antique finishes; what they all share in common is that they are all surrounded by a most impressive and substantial piece of natural slate.

All the options of this service are available online at the easy to use www.slatetoptables.com website. Alternatively you can call 01404 850881 with any questions.

The Alexander Paul Antiques stand will of course have on view a selection of their much admired stock of spectacular French Country dining tables. These fabulous examples of 18th and 19th century craftsmanship are fashionable, practical, a good investment and beautiful pieces of art, crafted in oak, chestnut, walnut, cherry and other stunningly patinated timbers. For a full online stock catalogue and contact details visit www.alexanderpaulantiques.com

We discovered a long forgotten clock under a pile of dusty veneers the other day on the back of a shelf in the workshops.

This is going to feature on the day of the show in a live antique restoration project.

Please do come and watch the different and varied skills required to complete this project and bring with you any questions you have about any restoration work your furniture at home may require whether antique or modern.

Remember; with free parking and accompanied children under 16 having free admission there is much to recommend this show as a great day out for all the family; See you there!

Delightful home with easy access and private patio

A SPACIOUS detached home suitable for a retired couple situated in the heart of this most sought after village offering three bedrooms, three reception rooms and a detached double garage. 7 Brooklands Farm Close is constructed of flint stone and is nestled in a private corner position in this centrally located cul-de-sac in Kilmington.

Internally the property benefits from spacious accommodation with good sized rooms all having wooden double glazed windows and either enjoying a pleasant aspect over the village or of the garden.

Access to the property is via steps or a zig-zag path suitable for wheelchair access with adjoining flowerbeds. The patio area which can be accessed from both the living room and kitchen is the main area of garden and is completely enclosed and private creating the perfect spot to sit and relax.

This property is certainly one to view with accommodation comprising entrance porch, spacious entrance hallway, kitchen/breakfast room, utility room, living room, dining room, study, downstairs shower room, master bedroom with en-suite bathroom, two further bedrooms, bathroom, detached double garage, ample parking and garden. This property is offered for sale with no onward chain priced at £395,000. Call Morgan York on 01297 33375 for more details.

LAWRENCE RESIDENTIAL - The very best of both worlds!

OVER the last few years thanks to huge advances in technology how we work, rest and play has changed beyond belief. Almost anything seems possible, allowing us to organise all aspects of our lives from social networking with friends to making life changing decisions about new careers to helping choose your next home.

The truly wonderful part is that you don't have to be sat at home or in an office to do this. Mobile technology means that you can be on the beach, on the move or even in the bath (although I wouldn't recommend it!).

For a forward thinking business embracing these advances makes running a business such as Lawrence Residential better for our customers as it allows us to display properties for sale on national websites such as Rightmove, Globrix and Google property. Buyers all over the country (or even the world) can see our properties for sale any time of the day, every day of the year. So we really have no need for that plush London Office with all the overheads that are associated with it (often resulting in higher estate agency fees).

It also means we can offer a service where we are on call seven days a week without being chained to a desk!

But let's not forget the fact that not everyone has or wants to use the internet to buy their next home.

A personal service is essential and at Lawrence Residential we offer our properties for sale through office locations at Milford & Dormor in Seaton and Axminster and Halifax House in Hemyock enabling our customers to collect details of any properties that we have for sale.

Over the past two years Lawrence Residential have shown, even with a very difficult economic backdrop, a combination of modern technology combined with personal service, a large support team and over 100 years estate agency experience is certainly the way forward.

Please call us on 01297 22186 to find out more on how Tim Bennett and Lawrence Residential can help with your home sale or purchase.

◆ TIM Bennett

Standing straw success

STAGS Honiton Office wish to report on an excellent standing straw sale held at Sidbury and Ottery St Mary.

Demand for standing straw is exceptionally high this year and the dearest in recent memory. Top price of £100 per acre for a 16.5 acre field of winter wheat at Sidbury with the overall average for winter wheat of £86.

Andrew Luxton, the auctioneer on the day, reports that there was an exceptional demand with a good attendance of buyers at both sales. The prices reflect the demand for fodder and straw for bedding which is strengthening due to the extremely dry conditions and poor yields throughout the country.

For further details on any aspect of conducting an on site sale please contact 01404 42553.

One property remaining at retirement village

Just one property of The New Collection at Gittisham Hill Park - the area's age exclusive community - remains for sale.

The 10 one bedroom bungalows have taken the number of independent living homes at the retirement village to 32, which nestle alongside the 30 bed registered care home on the 12 acre site.

Four of the new properties were reserved, off plan, on the weekend they were released for sale. Since building work was completed in the spring, the new residents have settled into their homes and started to get involved in village life.

Brenda Eisner was the first resident to move into The New Collection. She said: "It's very difficult moving from a home where you've been happy, but I feel very settled here. I go to meetings and join in games afternoons, and I'm getting to know my new neighbours."

The bungalows have been designed to offer contemporary flexible living with ease of use in mind. Bathrooms have level access showers and easy use mixer taps. The fully-fitted kitchens feature integrated appliances. Patio doors open out from the kitchen onto the landscaped and maintained grounds.

Gittisham Hill Park, in an Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty, near Honiton in Devon, is owned by Retirement Villages Ltd, an established company with 11 retirement villages throughout the country.

Sales and Marketing Director Sarah Burgess said: "We are delighted The New Collection has proved so popular. They have become a real feature of the village, centred as they are on the new sensory garden."

The last remaining new home at Gittisham Hill Park is priced at £229,950 leasehold. For more information, or to arrange a visit, please call 0845 5211857.

Seaton and District Art Society's 38th Annual Art Exhibition

AN influx of new members to the Seaton and District Art Society should bring a different flavour to the 38th Annual Art Exhibition which opens to the public at the Seaton Town Hall on Saturday, August 7th and runs until the following Thursday, August 12th.

There is always a lovely variety of paintings at this show because the hundred or so members are all encouraged to exhibit their work. So local and holiday making art fans will find something to suit their taste among work in every possible medium - from free or delicate watercolours to bold and big collages and gouaches. Artists have worked in oil, pastels, mixed media, acrylics and eco-warrior Pat Wright again shows how waste plastic can be turned into art. Award-winning artist-embroiderer Jan Charlesworth exhibits work which proves that textiles make a marvellously expressive medium. As well as embroidery there are paintings on silk, scraperboard and, for the first year, etchings.

Portraits - of animals, birds, aeroplanes, locomotives and ships as well as people - seascapes as well as landscapes from near and far from Colyford to Rajasthan, from Axmouth to Killarney. There is wit in oils from South West Academician Michael Beach and abstracts in acrylic from Janet Owen.

The three-dimensional section grows a little each year. Alongside sculpture in clay and witty work by Gerry Bennett and by ceramicist John Hilder, there is the miraculous engraved glass by Joyce Thorpe and new member Peter Vernon adds three-dimensional diversity with his stunning sculptures in wood.

Very sadly missing this year will be Jim MacDonald who died during the year and Brian Willerton who died suddenly last week. Both were popular, unassuming men who helped with every aspect of the Art Society and could be called upon in an emergency. Some of Brian's paintings will be in the Exhibition as a tribute to him.

The Society attracts members from all around East Devon and they enjoy ten demonstrations by professional artists throughout the year on the first Monday of the month. On the other Mondays the Monday Club meets to paint and draw from a model or still life. All the meetings are held in the Methodist Church Hall, Valley View, Seaton and visitors and new members are welcome at the monthly demonstrations.

The highlight of the year is the annual Exhibition and this year, as well as a feast of art, visitors can enjoy home-made refreshments. There is a raffle and tombola and a competition for children. To help cover the cost of hiring the Town Hall, entrance to the Show costs 50p which includes a catalogue. The catalogue then gains the visitor free entry until the end of the Exhibition. Children come in free. The Exhibition is open every day from 7th to the 12th August, 10am to 5.30pm.

Julian Marley to play Phoenix

JULIAN Marley, son of the late, great Bob Marley, will be playing in Exeter this Sunday. He produces an organic fusion of rootical bass reggae, hard, driving anthems, breezy jazz sounds and sambating Jamaican ska. His tunes urge spiritual awareness on a universal level, infused with street-energy hip-hop, bubbling dancehall, and a smooth combination of R&B and reggae.

Julian Marley plays at Exeter Phoenix Arts Centre on Sunday (August 8th). Telephone 01392 667080 or visit www.exeterphoenix.org.uk for more details or bookings.

WIN A FAMILY TICKET TO PECORAMA!

PECORAMA at Beer, is one of East Devon's leading visitor attractions and home to both the famous PECO Model Railway Exhibition and Beer Heights Light Railway.

The Exhibition hall displays wonderfully detailed railway layouts, with push-button controls enabling children to operate the trains. Outdoors, a fleet of miniature steam locomotives pull passenger trains on a mile long route through the grounds, over bridges, through steep-sided cuttings and a long, dark tunnel!

PECORAMA also features the Millennium Celebration Garden, five themed garden 'rooms' linked by attractive walkways, whilst stunning stonework and special water features continually catch the eye. The individual garden names of Sun, Moon, Rainbow, Roof and Moat Garden reflect the nature and colour of the plants found in each.

Children can choose from a variety of Activity Play Areas whilst a programme of entertainment runs each summer, with shows daily except Saturdays, from mid July until early September. Whatever the weather, clowns, jesters and magicians perform under cover of the PECO Marquee.

All-new Ford Focus reaches new heights on test

THE NEXT generation Ford Focus has been tested in some of the most extreme locations on the planet. It's been thrashed over frozen arctic lakes, hammered across the hottest deserts, and driven overloaded up and down high Alpine passes to ensure impeccable reliability and dependability wherever it is sold...

Altitude affects cars in the same way it affects humans. The higher you climb, the less oxygen there is in the air and it becomes harder to breathe and function. Ford demands its products meet high standards of performance at all altitudes which is why the company frequently heads to the Austrian Alps and to the Grossglockner High Alpine Road.

Completed in 1935, this breathtaking and beautiful ribbon of tarmac weaves its way right into the heart of the Hohe Tauern National Park, before terminating opposite the tallest mountain in Austria, the Grossglockner (3,798m) and its glacier, the Pasterze.

At 48km long, with 36 challenging bends and a maximum altitude of 2,504 metres, this masterpiece of road engineering is a mecca for motorcyclists and driving enthusiasts. It's also the perfect location to carry out altitude testing on the next generation Ford Focus.

Ford vehicle integration engineer Bernd Herwelting is here for two weeks, driving 200km up and down the hill every day. "We're here testing next generation Focus with a variety of powertrains, both petrol and diesel," he explains. "We're evaluating driveability on steep mountain roads from a customer perspective. The bottom line is we're here to find out how the car performs driving up and down seriously steep hills.

"The Grossglockner is ideal for this. The road surface is very good. We use the first section for our test which is the biggest climb. It's pretty much a constant 12 per cent gradient all the way up to the 2,400 metre mark. Up there the air is a lot thinner so the engine has to work harder. It's a long route which allows us to generate a lot of data."

Today the team is testing a highly camouflaged

Focus equipped with the all-new 1.6-litre Ford Eco-Boost direct-injection turbo petrol engine. Bernd drives while his colleague Markus Polle sits in the passenger seat monitoring a laptop which displays the ambient temperature, oil temperature and a myriad other readings. On the back seat there's a dozen or so plastic fuel cans filled with ballast which weigh the same as three heavy adults.

It costs 28 Euros for a day's driving on the Gross-glockner High Alpine Road. After exiting the toll booth at the bottom of the valley, the road shows it character straight away, climbing steeply in a straight line before launching into a series of hair-pin bends.

Bernd pushes the Focus hard. Mostly he's in second or third gear but on some of the tighter bends he drops down to first. He overtakes one, two, three coaches and several exotic sports cars, gaining height with dizzying speed.

The scenery is simply stunning but this road demands maximum concentration as there are huge drops at the side and no barriers. Ears pop as the Focus climbs ever higher and then, just a few minutes after leaving the valley floor, Bernd brakes to a halt in a lay-by at the top of the pass, switches the engine off and erects a wind deflector around the hood to trap heat inside the engine compartment.

"It's a heat soak," he says. "We want the engine to stay as hot as possible. Going uphill we're carefully motoring the engine cooling system, radiator temperature, engine oil temperature and in the case of automatic models, transmission oil temperatures.

"We have more than 100 electronic channels on board which record how the vehicle is performing. It's a lot of information. So far everything is working fine. My job is to drive quite fast but not to the limit. We could go a lot faster!"

Order books open for Nissan Leaf in Europe

AMID strong global demand for the world's first affordable mass-produced, zero-emission vehicle, Nissan International SA will open order books today for Nissan LEAF in Portugal and the Republic of Ireland.

Nissan's additional lead market for electric vehicles in Europe, the UK, has also confirmed that pre-orders will commence on September 1. The ordering process is a first step in securing a place on the list to receive the ground-breaking Nissan LEAF and means Portuguese, Irish and British customers will be first in line to receive the car in Europe when it launches early next year. Nissan LEAF deliveries begin in Portugal in January, Ireland in February and the UK in March.

"Today's announcement brings zero-emissions motor-ing one step closer to reality in Europe," said Simon Thomas, Senior Vice President of Sales and Marketing at Nissan International SA. "Nissan LEAF will appeal on many levels; it's a completely zero-emission electric car with all of the financial and environmental benefits that will bring, but it is also a practical family size car and fun to drive. That's a powerful combination, and Nissan LEAF is already attracting significant interest from prospective customers."

Since March, nearly 12,000 customers in Europe have signed up for regular updates on Nissan LEAF's introduction, and in the US and Japan pre-orders have exceeded 23,000 units since online reservations began in April.

Such high demand has meant the Nissan LEAF will launch slightly later than planned in the Netherlands. Sales are now expected to start in June 2011, with pre-orders opening to customers in October this year. All other market launch dates remain unchanged.

To make a reservation, customers in the initial launch markets simply need to go to their local Nissan consumer website* and place their order. The quick and easy process requires a fully-refundable deposit of €300 (£257). These 'early adopters' will also be given an opportunity to test-drive Nissan LEAF thoroughly by December, at which point they will need to formally confirm their order. A dedicated call centre for each country has been created to assist customers with questions. Call centre details are available on each website.

The price of Nissan LEAF after government incentives is €30,250 in Portugal, €29,995 in Ireland and £23,990 in the UK including the battery. This means that despite its advanced technology, Nissan LEAF will be no more expensive to buy – and considerably cheaper to run – than a conventional compact family hatchback. Running costs are anticipated at less than €1.05 per 100 km in Portugal, less than €1.20 per 100km in Ireland and less than £1.59 per 100 km in the UK.

Nissan LEAF is fully equipped with features such as air conditioning, satellite navigation and a parking camera. Innovative smart phone connectivity will allow an owner to heat or cool the interior of the car remotely via a mobile phone.

The car's AC motor develops 80 kW of power and 280 Nm of torque, enough for a maximum speed of more than 140 km/h (90 mph). The electric motor is 'fuelled' by a laminated lithium-ion battery with a power output of more than 90 kW.

A full charge delivers a potential range of 160 km (100 miles – US LA4 mode) which will satisfy the daily driving demands of most customers. Global research indicates that the average daily mileage for 80 percent of the world's population is under 100 km: the figure in Japan and the UK is under 50 km for 80 percent of the population.

NEWS FROM THE RUNNING CLUBS

◆ AXE Valley Runner Dave Kelf and chums pictured after running the 10-mile 'Barry The Baton' from Yarmouth to Lowestoft

AXE VALLEY RUNNERS with Dave Mutter

FEBRUARY'S Four Trigs race is ideal Grizzly preparation, involving 17 miles round Sidmouth with "an obscene amount of climb" as the organiser puts it.

It makes a superb training run for those local runners who just can't get enough of hilly off-road running and last time Garry Perratt did it with Sidmouth RC's Malcolm Bayer they decided to add a fifth trig on East Hill Strips for good measure which added a couple of miles. But even that's not enough for some local loonies.

Guy Lavender needed a last long training run before his hundred miler in the Alps at the end of the month and Garry hadn't had a recent fix of the utter exhaustion often experienced towards the end of ultras so the mad couple decided to do the Five Trigs on Sunday ... and then turn round and do it the other way.

Garry's nutritional preparation involved missing two of the previous three nights' suppers and Guy had a few muscular niggles so they took it very steadily, aiming for a couple of hours for each half loop. Honiton RC's Heather Foundling-Hawker joined them for the first ten miles but unfortunately had to withdraw with a bad blister.

The two continued in perfect weather, with great running and excellent views and, of course, experienced the joys of the switchback between Weston and Mutter's Moor twice in one day! Garry began to struggle after the penultimate trig and was in distinct shuffle mode by the time they reached the last one on Fire Beacon Hill so declined to ascend it (having climbed all others) but Guy held it together admirably all the way and is looking good for Mont Blanc. They completed the run in nine hours.

The Round Britain Coastal Relay Run with Barry the Baton is an amazing project which started in Blackpool in May and ends there in October - to run a baton all the way around the British coast-line.

'Barry' arrived in Yarmouth on Sunday morning and Dave Kelf with Nurse Gladys ran him from Yarmouth to Lowestoft (10 miles). Sarah joined in for some of the time on her bike.

The backup, including ice-lolly Joy was excellent and they met many people along the ten mile way. Amazingly they also met the three new donkeys on Gorleston beach whose first day it was after an absence of 35 years.

HONITON RUNNING CLUB with Judy Davey

THE Blackdown Beauty took place for the second year on Saturday and several members of other local running clubs joined Honiton for this fun event.

It was a social run taking in five pubs and a cream tea on an 18 mile circuit of the wonderful countryside of the Blackdown Hills. It was not a race but a chance to run and walk in good company enjoying the beautiful scenery following public footpaths and minor roads.

The race started at the Holman Clavel pub at Culmhead going through Pine Woods to the Queen's Arms at Pitminster when the route goes cross country to Blagdon Hill and up to the Merry Harriers pub and then on to the Half Moon at Clayhidon.

The next stop was Pear Tree Cottage at Stapley for a sumptuous cream tea provided by Smeatharpe WI, then York Inn at Churchinford before heading back to the Holman Clavel via Otterhead Lakes.

Organisers were promoting a fancy dress theme of doctors, nurses and patients and this was the perfect excuse for the more adventurous Honiton Running Club member to indulge in a little fantasy. Fellow runners will never be able to take Bruce Strawbridge, Nick Thorpe, Steve Davey and many others seriously again!

It was a great occasion with perfect weather - thanks particularly to Alan Nichols, Nick Thorpe and John Burgess as well as the local landowners for allowing runners to run over their land.

◆ READY FOR THE OFF: The Honiton Runners assemble in appropriate attire before the start of the 18-mile Blackdown Beauty run.

HONITON with Andy Wagner

Monthly Stableford

WHAT had been listed as a monthly Medal became a Stableford on the day, which calmed a lot of nerves on the tee, and joining in the fun for a bit of practice was assistant professional James Pickard.

At present James is listed as playing off one but that could well move after his weekend's round. James carded a massive 41pts but because of his professional status he was left to claim a moral victory only.

The player that benefited most was canny Chris Earle who took the Division One prize ahead of Steve Waller on countback, both players scoring 38pts. Dan Noar was third with 37pts. Division Two was equally as tight with D Johns beating I Banfield on countback, both recording 39pts. M Kent was third with 38pts.

Tuesday Mixed

TWENTY six members played for the Chivers Goblets this week. Foursomes Stableford, drawn for partners.

The winners with 39 pts were Jane Watts and John Dickinson. 2nd with 38 pts were Linda Northover and Stan Squire. 3rd with 36 pts on c/b were Dot Grove and Terry Dimond. Jane and John's photograph will be displayed in the Clubhouse until next month.

Ladies Section

THIS week was a Flag Competition with a good field. Very simple format, stroke play, s.s. plus your handicap. Each division had a different coloured flag with all players hoping to "carry" the flag further than previous players in their section.

The Silver winner putting the ball in the hole on the 18th was Jane Watts. 2nd leaving just a small tap in was June Hodge.

In the Bronze One the winner was Rosemary Greenhorn who carried the flag four shots down the 19th hole. Brenda Hyde was 2nd also playing down the 19th and Catherine Doherty was 3rd finishing up in the hole on the 18th.

Bronze Two winner again playing four shots down the 19th was Majson Stroud. 2nd with three shots on 19th was Rosemary Whiteley. 3rd with two shots on 19th was Jam Dickinson.

Senior Section

SEVENTY Five is a nice rounded number and it proved popular with the Seniors in this weeks competition. All four winning teams in the three ball better ball competition with two scores to count recorded the same score and it was down to countback on the back nine to determine the final placings.

First place went to the team of Adrian Williams, Norman Ede and Howard Clayton thanks to an outstanding 42 points on the back nine. Despite a recent handicap cut Norman once again showed he is the master of this part of the course.

Second place went to the team led by Seniors Captain Ben Laite aided by Robin Mitchell and Alan Bacon with consistent scoring on both halves.

Third were Bob Cleal, Peter Joy and Malcolm Keeley followed by John Bevan, Chris Street and Frank Hart, who both reserved there best effort for the front nine to lose out on countback.

Friday was the Devon Vets Men's Summer Meeting played at Holworthy. This year the winner of the competition and the Claret Jug with 39 pts was Honiton member Stan Squire.

LYME REGIS with Steve Percival

NANTES SALVER

THE annual seniors' match (sponsored by Nantes Solicitors of Bridport) for the Nantes Salver between old rivals Lyme Regis and Bridport is always a fiercely contested event. This year was anticipated to be no exception, particularly as the last time that Lyme had won the event was 2004!

However, with home advantage, a course in excellent condition and being able to field the strongest possible team, they were confident that they stood a good chance of victory.

On the day this proved to be very much the case and, with all of their team producing excellent individual and team performances the final result exceeded all expectations.

Played as four ball better ball match, all of the Lyme pairs dovetailed exceptionally well to overcome some very stiff opposition from the equally determined Bridport side which included two ex Lyme members whose knowledge of the course was almost certainly still fresh in their memories.

Although the final result was an overwhelming 6-0 victory for Lyme Regis many of the match results were closer than the final score seems to indicate. First pair out Mike Warren (10) and Steve Philips (11) played exceptionally well as a pair to record a 3-2 win over Terry Garrett (22) and ex-Lyme player Keith Hicks (13) whilst Roger Driver (7) and David Cannings (21) achieved an overwhelming 7-5 win over Mike Joslin (9) and Mike Conway. Julian Cox (7) stormed round the first nine to record a gross evens score and, with his playing partner, Roger Stokes (16) card a five hole lead which gave a final 5-3 win over Malcolm Lawrence (11) and Ron Hobson (23).

John Thomas (14) and Ted Baker (15) also gelled well as a team to complete a convincing 3-2 win over Derek Griggs (19) and Dave Cook (18).

Meanwhile, newly qualified senior, Rob Clapp (5) and Club Vice Captain Ray Farrell (16) were looking set for defeat until, three holes from the 18th Ray found inspiration to achieve a one hole victory over Keith Brown (11) and Terry Wilmott (18).

One hole victories were also recorded by Brian Bellars and John Toates both playing off 18 against Brian Walsh (16) and David Boggis (18).

Needless to say the Lyme team were jubilant after such an emphatic win and hopes were high for the forthcoming Knighton Heath trophy semi final match against the Dorset Golf and country club.

Whilst the Lyme team played well, the combination of an extremely difficult course and home advantage to the opposition combined to result in a convincing 6-0 defeat.

Daily Mail Ladies Foursomes by Ellie Langford

FOURSOMES is never an easy format, with each pair playing one ball and taking alternate shots.

The winners of the 32 team competition were the regular pairing of Di Dick and Prue Russell who made it look easy with a round where their approach shots found the greens and all their putts seemed to drop. They finished with a nett 70 and now go through to the knockout part of the competition where they will be drawn against the winners of another club.

The runners up were Sandra Shefferd and Julia Coote with a nett 71.5 on count back from Shelia Clare and Lynda Bass also with 71.5.

Honiton back on top after crushing Cheriton

HONITON CRICKET CLUB

Honiton 1st v Cheriton Fitzpaine 1st
HONITON entertained Cheriton Fitzpaine at Mountbatten Park hoping to put last week's disappointment behind them. Winning the toss the skipper put Cheriton into bat.

Honiton opened the bowling with 15 year old Adam Thompson and Phil Tansley. The pair had Cheriton in trouble from the start and wickets fell regularly. Thompson finished his six over spell taking 2 for 11 with some excellent bowling. Kev Kelly replaced Thompson and he soon started taking wickets. Tansley was in excellent form swinging the ball and some of his deliveries were unplayable. Cheriton were all out in 24 overs scoring 57. Kelly finished 3 for 18 and Tansley 5 for 17 from 12.

Honiton knocked off the runs inside eight overs with Rob Ingram unbeaten on an aggressive 40 and Brad Groves 13 no.

As Shaldon beat Kenn, Honiton move back to the top of the table clear by 7 pts of Kenn and 12 ahead of Shaldon. With four games to go promotion is within Honiton's grasp but they cannot afford any slip ups. Honiton entertain Hemyock next in a local derby.

Honiton 2nd v Kilminster 2nd

HONITON found themselves heading on a mystery tour to play Kilminster in the unlikely environs of Plymtree.

Andrew Lapping won the toss and decided to make first use of a greenish looking track featuring several drier looking crumbly patches.

Canniford and Strawbridge were severely tested by Cook, Larcombe and the vagaries of the pitch as they ground out the first ten overs. A slow outfield assisted in keeping a lid on the scoring as the openers did well to reach 24 before Strawbridge was taken behind for 11. Canniford departed in similar fashion for 17, triggering the traditional worrying collapse as Travers, Kelly and the captain all failed to trouble the scorers and Honiton declined to a groggy 38-5 in the 18th over.

Meanwhile, Meadows had been cleverly playing himself in and when joined by Craig Lapping at number seven, both men got the scoreboard ticking over by running quick ones and twos and punishing the occasional bad ball. Over the course of the next 22 overs the pair added an excellent 104 for the sixth wicket, Meadows cruising past 50 and Lapping finally being dismissed for a Collingwood-esque 30.

Brinsford departed in double quick time for five and Hartnoll for the fourth quacker of the innings, with a rustic slog against the wily Lavender. Meadows began the final over on 83 and hit a six off the first ball to raise the possibility of reaching a century. The remainder of the over featured a wide, a seven resulting from a no-balled beamer which was hooked into the adjacent pasture, a couple of well scuttled twos and a single off the final ball of the innings as Meadows finished unbeaten on a superbly crafted 100.

Honiton's total of 178-8 presented a ticklish challenge to the Kilminster men who contented themselves with nudrilling Lapping and Brinsford around until Brinsford struck in the eighth over to have the becalmed Parr well taken by Travers. The scoring rate picked up as 22 were added in the next four overs before Brinsford struck for a second time to have Baker taken by Strawbridge.

R. Cook, bristling with intent, initially took a liking to Hill, depositing his second ball into the car park before creaming the fifth ball of the over through the covers for four. Two overs later, however, he failed to spot the off cutter and was well taken at long on by the ever reliable Craig Lapping attempting a repeat of the car park shot.

The persevering Brinsford picked up his third wicket, Strawbridge snapping up A. Cook at slip to make it 64-4 and end a tidy 13 over spell. Hill snuffed out any remaining thoughts of a Kilminster win by finally avoiding Stenning's inside edge to see him on his way, leg before for a rather stodgy 5, and then having Tattersall LBW for nought.

Hartnoll was quickly in on the act, having Huscroft pouched as Strawbridge helped himself to a hat-trick of catches. The Great Man quickly followed up with the wicket of Larcombe and when Hill sent Seward's leg stump for a walk to make it 75-9 Kilminster had lost seven wickets for 11 runs.

Hartnoll then wound up proceedings having Lavender smartly stumped by Meadows as Kilminster were dismissed for 80.

Honiton won by 98, (Brinsford 3-20, Hill 4-25, Hartnoll 3-2) and took 19 points from the game to keep them in with the chance of a top three finish.

Bowls round-up

Mixed fortunes for Honiton league teams

FENITON with Roger Smith

IN the over 60s Mens triples league the A team continue to be inconsistent losing to Budleigh Salterton on both rinks.

Later in the week they only could only manage two points against Mordard Bishop losing by 30-37. The winning rink was Stan Nevill, Mike Chipperfield and Arthur Williams 20-16. However, the B team continued their push for promotion with an emphatic win by 46-31 against Cullompton.

The winning rinks were Colin Cheesley, George Skinner and Don Conbeer 22-17 and Frank Jones, Tony Young and Roger Clarke 24-14.

The mixed team entertained a touring side from Cheltenham and lost by 81-103 despite winning on three of the five rinks.

The winning rinks were Ted Goodenough, Tony Young, Ruby Veitch and Lyn Eveleigh 20-14, Ruth Clarke, Eddie Cox, Don Conbeer and Paul Edmonds 19-16 and Norma Cox, Graham Phillips, George Skinner and Tony Kury 17-16.

At the weekend Paul Edmonds defeated Richard North in the final of the Club 3 wood singles competition by 46-38.

Paul took the initiative in the match and Richard could not manage to retrieve the situation in the 55 minute session.

Club Captain Les Ley had a successful week reaching the rink final (the section three semi-final) of the Devon over 55 singles competition. Unfortunately, after having won through three rounds, he lost by 5-21 to Trevor Pipe of Honiton, who was the 2009 runner up in this competition.

AXMINSTER with David Harris

IN the mixed friendlies we started with a hard-fought victory at Wrington (Bristol) winning by just five shots where our victory was entirely down to the excellent play of Barbara Mowatt, Ken Quick, Alison Glyde, and the in-form Pam Clark (31-7).

We then lost at Taunton BC (34-52) with our best rink being Alan Taylor, Joan Quick, Frank Lintott, and Derek Eldridge (18-10) before overcoming South Petherton at home (93-72) with June Teale, Ken Quick, Chris Todd, and Margaret Crompton (33-8) in good form.

We then lost two triples triples matches - firstly at Dunkswell (54-61) in four closely contested rinks, our best being William Cook, Betty Hudson, and Lilian Lovatt (16-14) before losing at Chardstock (32-65) with our only winners being Muriel Smith, Roger Legg, and Brian Clark (18-12).

In the Devon over 60s League we lost narrowly at Bradninch on both rinks (31-39 overall) but we did well to get a maximum eight points at home to Crediton (55-18) with Les Monk, David Harris, and Frank Bridge doing well (41-6).

Unfortunately the Ladies had no luck in their two away matches at Seaton (32-82) and Budleigh (18-34) but thoroughly enjoyed both games.

Congratulations to both Ann Clayton and Marion Harris on passing their English Bowls Coaching Scheme Level 2 examination.

Many thanks to coach Wally Gray from Ottery for all his help.

CHARDSTOCK

A THREE rink mixed Triples match against Axminster at Chardstock on Saturday ended in victory for Chardstock by two rinks to one and overall by 66 to 32 shots. M Clifford, M Rogers, N Denslow won 27-5, R Wines, M Sturley, K Wakelin won 27-9, J Milford, J Tucker, S Jeffery lost 12-18.

There was another home fixture on Sunday where Hemyock were the visitors in a four rink mixed Triples match resulting in a win for Chardstock by 73-54 shots with both clubs winning on two rinks. B Vickers, A Day, J Tucker lost 13-19, A Callagan, R Wines, N Denslow lost 12-18, T Bird, B Howard, S Jeffery won 22-10, J Vickers, K Wakelin, P Compton won 26-7.

SEATON with Edward Harden

THE club had A very quiet week with only two club games.

In the men's over 60s triples league played on 28 July the club increased their lead by defeating Dawlish Marina C by 49 shots to 22. Top triple was David Ford, Les Tooze and Roger Woolland.

On the July 30th we were soundly beaten by Bowls Devon Patrons in a game of four mens and two ladies' rinks.

The only Seaton winning rink was Alf Wilson, Mike Follenfant, Ted Talbot and Ron Rowley. Honiton bowler Trevor Pipe won the Devon men's Over 60's Green Final played on our green on 30 July.

The Section 3 final will be played on our green tonight (Tuesday, August 3rd).

HONITON with Tony Broughton

BRIAN Edwards, Bowls Devon's Men's President, brought a side made up from clubs throughout Devon to play against Honiton on Tuesday this week.

The weather was not too bad so the full 21 ends were played in great spirit. I may have played better if I could have stopped laughing.

The ladies prepared a super tea for us and although we lost the match by just five shots it was an immensely enjoyable afternoon. The top winning rink was Alan Fuller, Ken Morfe, Mike Dart and Paul Crockett at 27-11.

Wednesday the over 60s A side was at home to Bradninch and again won both rinks and the match by 13 shots. This gives them another valuable 8 points.

The B side suffered their usual demise, drawing one rink and losing the other by just five shots, away at Marina. So only one point for them. I am afraid it will require a miracle to keep them in Division three now.

The C side seem to have lost their way a little. This week the team won on one, losing the other and the match, so only two points. They also will need some considerable luck to finish in the top two and go up a division.

Thursday the Ladies took three triples to Madeira losing the match by 10 shots. One trio drew, one lost but Jenny Wilde, Berry Maynard and Rita Barwick won by 17-13.

Friday's Two Counties match against Cullompton was a better result. We won two rinks, drew one and lost one winning the match by six shots. This gave us 8.5 points.

The Ladies have been very busy this week with some excellent results all around.

Playing at Sidmouth Rita Barwick, Dulcie Broughton and Shirley Hiscocks beat Madeira's Janet Allen, Pat Cain and Sandy Cox in the Group semi-final of the County Benevolent Triples.

Honiton were 14-8 down at 11 ends but the tide changed and Madeira did not score again, Honiton winning 21-14.

In the other Semi the Madeira trio of Jan Roberts, Pat Harris and Catherine King beat Seaton's Barbara Harden, Angie Mayhew and Joan Miles by 19-12.

The afternoon final was very tight up to 8 ends when Madeira scored one to go 6-5 up. Then once again the tide changed and Honiton won the following nine ends Madeira conceding at 20-6 on the seventeenth end.

At Budleigh Honiton's second trio of Hannah Morfe, Joan Heard and Sue Evans came up against the formidable Madeira trio of McCaulay, Smerdon and Harriott in that final. With two ends to play they were six shots down but a five and a single forced the extra end which Honiton won. Honiton had only two teams in this competition and both go through to the County Finals Days.

Another good result was Dulcie Broughton and Shirley Hiscocks beating Madeira's Annette Flockhart and May Dyson in the over 55 County Pairs.

Only sad note was Rita Barwick and Brenda Harris losing to Madeira's Eileen Bagley and Kate Andrews in the Group Final of the over 70s Pairs.

On Saturday the ladies invited teams from Sidmouth, Seaton, Lyme Regis, Ottery St Mary, Budleigh and Bridport to play against them in the Invitation Triples.

Lyme Regis came out the winning trio with Honiton's Sheila Tillier, Berry Maynard and Shirley Hiscocks runners-up.

Finally, Sunday the Dorset Bowling Association brought six triples to play us. We only managed to win two of the six and lost the match 93-103. Our top trio was Maureen Willocks, Keith Parsons & Eddie Sharman with 26-17.

LYME REGIS with Paul Moffitt

IN a week when the men's B team and the ladies league team were resting, it was good fortune for the two league teams playing.

The Championship side snaffled all 10 points at home to Westmoors whilst the A team took eight points at home to Bridport.

In a very busy week for the Club on the friendlies front, it was mixed fortunes with a heavy defeat against against Cardiff in the annual match.

GOOD WIN FOR COLY

Saturday, July 31st

Colyton 3 Farway Utd 0

AN 18-man squad was available for the visit of Perry Street League Farway United as Colyton recorded their first win of their pre-season campaign.

Although a little disappointed, Colyton looked the brighter in the opening spell and took the lead on 12 minutes as Callum Somers out sprinted the Farway defence to confidently smash the ball into the top corner with the outside of his right boot.

After 20 minutes central defender Dylan Hawkins limped off with a calf injury and was replaced by a calf injury and was replaced by Gary May who nearly extended the lead a minute later after his powerful header from a Coly corner was cleared off the line.

Colyton continued to press forward and on the half hour the Farway keeper was unable to hold onto a stringing volley from Paul Millman and Richard Tratt was on the spot to tap home the rebound. Several changes at half time saw the introduction of Erich Busby who was to have a very impressive 45 minutes with some intelligent runs and solid passing.

The game was flowing end to end and Farway created several clear openings and would have scored apart from some last ditch tackling.

Colyton finished strongly and in the 85th minute good work from Chris Long who threaded a inch perfect pass to Ed Busby to round the Farway keeper and notch Coly's third.

Next Saturday sees Colyton take on Heavitree Social United at the Peace Memorial Ground, kick-off 3pm.

◆ THE Devon and Exeter League has accepted two withdrawals ahead of the 2010-11 season. Wellington Town have reluctantly pulled their third team out of Division Four, after winning consecutive championships in Division Five and Six since they joined the League three years ago.

The Somerset club wanted to withdraw their Premier side but, after discussions with the League management, took the decision to continue in the top-flight and instead disband their third team.

Exeter-based Beacon Knights have also taken their reserves out of Division Six.

The Knights – who were runners-up in Division Seven last term – will continue in the League with their first team in Division Two after being relegated.

Fixtures secretary Merv Joslin has released dates for the new campaign, and currently no League games will be played before Saturday, September 4th.

It had been expected that there would be some midweek games played, but this has not been implemented.

Most teams will start with the first round of the four East Devon cup competitions on Bank Holiday Saturday, August 28th, before playing their first League match a week later.

Good turnout at Honiton Netball League annual meeting

By Graham Ingram

THE Honiton Netball league AGM took place recently at The Heathfield in Honiton. It was, once again, a very well attended meeting with some 80 players in attendance. Jenny Kelly, Sue Merrett, Kim Abbot, Rachel Keeley and Graham Ingram were re-elected to the committee whilst Kirsty Wackley and Michaela Sydenham were elected to vacancies on the committee.

The meeting is really a celebration of the previous year's activities and saw the presentation of the winter and summer team trophies, the individual player of the season awards and the team award for fair play [voted by all competing teams] and the umpire of the year, another award made up of nominations from competing teams.

Keeley's Angels were the team of the year, coming top of division one in both summer and winter competitions. In the winter the runners up were Flamingos A whilst Wasps were the team to finish second in the summer.

In division two it was Tip Top Trees Acorns who collected trophies for their performance in both winter and summer leagues – albeit for finishing second on ◆ DOUBLE WINNERS: Keeley's Angels collected the Team of the Year award after topping the first Division tables in both the winter and summer league's.

both occasions! In the winter they finished behind the Met Office Weather Girls, who completed their first season at Honiton undefeated; in the summer it was Bampton who took the honours in the closest finish in this division for many years.

The player of the season awards are decided by umpire nominations at the conclusion of each match. This year Nicola Field of Wasps took the award for the first division in the winter with Sarah Green of NAS Vehicle Repairs collecting the winter second division award.

In the summer it was Sarah Clark of Flamingos A who took the first divisional award with Claire Leyshon of Bampton [picture] who took the second division prize.

The nominations for the Fair Play Award saw the trophy go to Bo-Peeps for their fair play approach and cheerful spirit throughout the season whilst it was Kirsty Wackley who collected the umpire of the year award for her unflappable and professionalism throughout both winter and summer.

The Honiton league now takes a short break with games re-starting at the beginning of September.

◆ DIVISION TWO DOUBLE: Tip Top Trees Acorns did the double of Division Two titles in both the winter and summer league's
